Community leaders, volunteers to man MDA Telethon phones

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Mayor Johnny Longo of Waveland and Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett are scheduled to help man the telephones at Waveland City Hall during the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Drive this weekend.

The Waveland Civic Association, sponsors of the Labor Day Telethon in conjunction with WVUE-TV, Channel 8 in New Orleans, will be in operation from 5 p.m. Sunday through 6 p.m. Monday.

Jimmy Lagasse, Waveland Civic Association president and coordinator in Hancock County, Henderson Point and Pass Christian, expects to raise more than $10,000 from this area during the 25 hours.

In addition to the two mayors there will be other elected officials, association members and volunteers helping in the solicitation. Pledges can be made by calling 467-4134, 467-9248 or 467-9249 between the hours of 5 p.m. Sunday and 6 p.m. Monday.

Lagasse was happy with the $4,765 plus $900 in the fish bowl collected in this area last year even with the threat of a hurricane. "I am sure we can go over the $10,000 mark this year for such a worthy cause," he added.

The Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, will be seen again this year in this area over WVUE-TV, Channel 8, starting at 10:30 p.m. Sunday, September 3, and ending at 5:30 p.m. Monday, September 4. The local segments will be broadcast by

News Brief

SHOPLIFTER FINED

Judge Lucien Gex of Waveland City Court Thursday fined Charlie Alfonso and his wife Pamela $50 each after they were found guilty of shoplifting. The couple had been charged by Waveland Police with shoplifting two packs of wieners from National Super Market in Waveland August 24.

Channel 8 live from The New Orleans Hilton.

The annual supershow, in its 13th year, will feature comedy, music, dance, and reports on the progress being made by the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The show will be broadcast live from Del Webb's Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas. Ed McMahon will again back up Jerry as anchorman.

The Telethon, held to benefit the research and patient service programs of the Muscular Dystrophy Association, will be beamed to nearly 240 stations across the nation.

Arthur Forrest, producer-director of Telethon 78, is helping Jerry line up some of the biggest names in show business for the 13th annual broadcast of the Telethon.

Last year's Telethon was a great success and Jerry Lewis predicts even greater response this year, because, he says, "the generosity of Americans keeps snowballing. I know the concern will keep growing until cures are found. I eagerly anticipate the Telethon every year - but this year especially."

Before Bay Council

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Bay St. Louis City Council held its second hearing on a Small Cities program Thursday.

The project will include sewerage and water extensions and improvements in the 500 blocks of Washington, Kellar and Sycamore Streets, at a cost of $227,000 to be funded by the HUD Urban Development Small Cities Program.

Bay St. Louis Chief of Police Douglas Williams, a resident of that area, told how much the people of the area are in need of the program.

"I would like to invite you to come out early in the morning or late in the evening and smell the odors in the area because of the lack of sewerage," added Williams. He explained he was appearing as a citizen of the area and also spoke on behalf of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Lee Williams, another resident of the area.

At Hancock School Board

Consolidate districts study recommends

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

A group from the Planning and Evaluation Department of the State Board of Education recommended Thursday the consolidation of Hancock County school districts, and the creation of new high schools.

Spokesman Allen Evans said the recommendations are a result of their feasibility study done on the Hancock County School System.

Evans recommended the consolidation of the Hancock County and Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Districts into one district to enhance educational opportunities in the county.

Hancock County School District Superintendent Terry H. Randolph said, "The only way I think the schools will consolidate is by an act of the Legislature."

In consolidation, Evans recommends reorganization of the school district to allow two high schools.

He proposes one school (Hancock North Central Attendance Center accommodate ninth through 12th grade pupils residing north of Interstate-10, and another (Bay Senior High School) for 10th through 12th grade pupils residing south of I-10.

"This will allow creation of a new facility for grades seven through nine serving pupils who reside south of I-10, thereby providing additional space to improve the facilities of North Hancock Central Attendance Center, Murphy School, and Gulf View School as needed to accommodate the growth of the county," said Evans.

If the consolidation of the two school districts is not accomplished, continued Evans, the County School District should construct a new secondary facility south of Interstate 10 for grades seven through 12.

"Time is critical," said Evans. The North Hancock Central School is already overcrowded, he explained.

Construction should be clearly planned with detailed specifications of all needed spaces given, so that a useable and flexible educational facility can be designed to serve educational needs for the greatest number of years, the educator continued.

"It may not sound important but this is critical," said Evans. He emphasized careful selection of an architect, because of the various kinds of problems that come up.

"Utilize both the specifications and architectural drawings for a well planned campaign to pass a bond issue. Well informed people are generally the ones that will be your supporters," said

Evans to the school board. Hancock County School Board President Woodrow Ladner said, "They are not giving us something we didn't know about, but with these outside, objective evaluations, we now have ammunition to sell the bond issue, something concrete that we can offer the people."

The recommendations are based on conclusions that Hancock County is on the verge of a significant population increase, with all twelve grades of North Hancock Central Attendance Center overcrowded, already the state study team also feels the district's transportation system will fail to meet future transportation needs.

Waveland man wins

trip to Ireland

Phillip Foles, 414 Coleman Avenue, Waveland, has won a free, all expense paid, trip for two to Ireland in a sweepstakes. He doesn't remember entering.

Foles was notified Wednesday of the trip by Kitty Mollere of Mollere Travel Agency in Waveland.

Foles, a single man at 57, says he hasn't decided who will accompany him on the trip to Ireland.

"I'll take the best offer, I guess," he said.

He said the sweepstakes was offered in a semi-monthly travel magazine, and claims he doesn't remember sending the entry form in.

"I just can't remember sending in an entry. If I did, it was the first time I've ever done so," Foles said.

"I'm very excited," he said. "What more can I say?"

Williams stresses neighborhood need of sewerage improvements

Ronnie Murray, Gulf Regional Planning Commission representative, thanked the Mayor, City Council and HUD for their cooperation in preparing the pre-application.

Murray said chances of getting the funding are very good especially since HUD has requested a full application from the City and it has been furnished.

Mrs. Geraldine Watson, a nine-year resident of Sycamore Street, said it has been a problem since she and her husband built their home.

"A person cannot even enjoy his yard because of the odor," she commented. "There were no objections to the program. Everyone attending the hearing was in favor."

In other business, Council accepted the revised budget for the City for the fiscal year of 1977-78. The revised budget is published on Page 5-A of this issue of the Echo.

The City has scheduled a 5 p.m.

hearing Tuesday on Revenue Sharing Funds before the regular 7 p.m. meeting. The hearing was called by the mayor's office.

There will be a 5 p.m. Revenue Sharing meeting planned by the Council on Sept. 12 and a budget hearing on Sept. 18.

September Garden Guide

By MRS. C.H. WOOD
Mississippi Garden Club

September is the best month of the year to sow new lawns of perennial ryegrass, Kentucky bluegrass and fescue. Use a spreader to distribute seeds as evenly as possible. Keep the seeded moist until seeds have germinated. To have a green lawn all winter, overseed a permanent lawn with fescue or rye.

Divide and plant Amaryllis, Easter and Calla lilies. Space bulbs about 1 foot apart with tops slightly covered. Work into the beds a low nitrogen fertilizer such as 5-10-10. Mulch beds with pine straw or bark. A heavier mulch may be necessary for North Mississippi. Continue to divide Iris and Day Lilies this month.

Feed Camellias and Azaleas now with a nitrogen-free fertilizer, such as 0-12-12 and give plants adequate water.

Nitrogen applied this late will stimulate new growth that is too tender to withstand low winter temperatures.

Prepare Gladiolus, tuberous Begonias and Tuberose for winter storage. Gently dig up bulbs, shake off loose soil and dry in a shade for a day or two. Store in cool, dry place until spring.

Climbing and Rambling Roses should be pruned immediately after blooming. Continue to feed, water and spray all roses.

Now is the time to prepare beds for bulb planting in October and November. Dig soil 6 to 10 inches deep. Mix organic matter and bone meal into the soil. Mulch with pine straw or leaves until it's time to plant. Daffodil, Hyacinth and Crocus bulbs will be arriving at garden centers this month. Buy them as soon as possible and store in a cool place until planting time.

Continue to be on the lookout for fall armyworms in your lawn, particularly if you have Bermuda grass. Control armyworms with Sevin.

Set out Strawberry plants in September. They will have plenty of time to become established and to develop good root systems before cold weather. Two weeks before setting out strawberries, prepare the bed and thoroughly mix in a complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8 according to the soils natural fertility.

Strawberries tolerate light shade for part of the day, but they do best in sunny locations.

Correction

Through an inadvertent error in addition of line items, the 1978 Waveland City budget was reported in Thursday's Echo as "approaching $2 million." The correct total budget for the coming year is $1,320,352.

In a breakdown of the City's proposed General Fund expenditures, an outlay of $67,650 was listed as "other expenditures." This figure should read under "Other Expenditures" the General Fund, "$30,000. Loans to Miscellaneous Funds." The total General Fund budget for the coming year is $607,060.

In a vote by the Council at the Tuesday night meeting, the City Clerk was authorized to advertise for bids on renovation of the Waveland Civic Center roof. The Universal Roofing Co. of Picayune presented a proposal on the necessary repairs estimated to cost some $6,000. The company was not awarded a contract on the job as reported in Thursday's papers.

The Echo regrets these errors.

Waveland progress continues

The City of Waveland leaves very little grass grow under it's feet when it comes to progress.

The City's Fire Department just became a paid organization earlier this year and already has a second fire station.

There will be a ribbon cutting at 9 a.m. this morning with an open house until noon at Fire Station No. Two on Gulfside Street.

When you visit the fire station, just take a look at all the interior work in the building. It was done by firemen, policemen and their auxiliary units and volunteers.

If you go down to Fire Station Number One and the Police Station you will find more of the same quality workmanship on the interior of the complex housing these two units.

The people of Waveland get their money's worth in everything they do, and one of the chief reasons is because they take pride in their community.

It may be time for a few other folks to take notice of how things get done in the City of Waveland.

As long as we can remember, Waveland has always done a lot of little things, such as surfacing a few miles of streets each year, add a few street lights each year, etc. And before you know it, these little things become big things.

As the old saying goes, you have to crawl before you can walk, others should study that phrase over and over.

We are proud to be a native of Waveland, even though we now live in Bay St. Louis.

We have seen Waveland grow through the years. Its growth is not attributed to just one person, but the whole community.

If Bay St. Louis and the east of Hancock County is going to grow and prosper, their must be community involvement. The elected officials only do what their constituents want them to do, so let us all remember that.

When was the last time you attended a City Council, School Board or Board of Supervisors meeting? The more concern you, the public, shows, the more concern your elected officials will show.

We wish to congratulate Waveland, its officials and it's residents on their growth, and wish them much more growth. Long live Waveland.

MISSISSIPPI CONSUMER REPORT

A Service of the Consumer Protection Division
Of The Office Of
A. E. Summer, Attorney General

CONTRACTORS

Q: I'm going to have some work done to my house this summer. How can I be sure to get a reputable contractor?

A: Like bears out of hibernation, unscrupulous home repair contractors begin the summer full of vigor and energy. Claiming to be roofers, painters, carpenters, siding installers, these operators attempt to take advantage of the homeowner's springtime impulse to clean up and fix up. Consumers often are taken by such operators because they are unaware of the schemes they employ and are not familiar with ways of dealing with contractors.

The sales approach of the fly-by-night contractors follows certain patterns; they include:

-Without notice, a salesman or repairman comes to your door and offers you a special introductory, low price for some kind of home repair.

-A painter, a siding salesman, a roofer offers you a special price for home repair if you let him use your house as a model or demonstrator to show to possible customers.

-A home repair contractor comes to your house and offers to do work at a cheap rate because his equipment and crew are in the neighborhood.

-A repairman offers to spray your roof or driveway with a sealer for a bargain price.

Their attraction is what appears to be a cheap price and quick work. Unfortunately, their stock in trade is hit and run; they do inferior work, accept payment, and leave the area before their work is found unsatisfactory.

The practitioners of these schemes are clever. They usually take a look at the exterior of your house before coming to the door. Consequently, the work they offer to do will probably be work that you yourself have considered getting done.

No group or class of consumer is free from the grasp of such operators. The elderly, though, seem particularly susceptible, perhaps because they live in older houses or because they are more tempted by price-saving offers since their income is usually limited.

One can be so strongly that you should not agree on the spot to have work done by those who come to your door unasked. The work that these people do is usually calculated to last just slightly longer than their stay in your neighborhood or town. What initially seems cheap or a bargain doesn't turn out to be so when you have to have the job done again.

In addition to treating with special caution the stranger that comes to your door offering to do contracting work, there are procedures to follow when doing business with any contractor - first, get the names and addresses of several local contractors. One good way of doing this is to ask friends and neighbors who have had work done. Another source is the Yellow Pages of the phone book. Next, ask these contractors to come to your home. Explain to each what work you want done. Ask him:

- What the work will involve;
- When he would be able to begin;
- How long it would take him to complete the work;
- The total cost;
- What guarantees he provides;
- The method of payment (the full amount when work is completed, periodic, etc.).

Then ask the contractors you are impressed with to give you a firm, written estimate. These estimates should contain a specific description of the work to be done and should include a description of the kind and quality of materials to be used. Make certain that all the estimates include the total price.

After you get the written estimates, you are ready to make a final choice. But don't just consider price. Reports about the workmanship of the contractor from friends, your feelings about the contractor's reliability, the amount of work time involved, the guarantee offered should all enter into your decision.

Dear Sir:

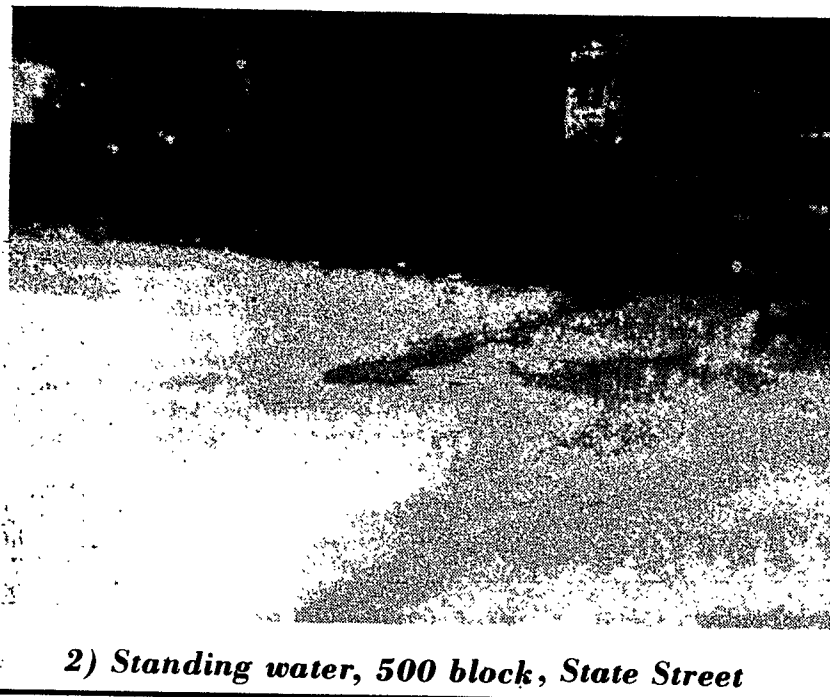

Many people think we are faced only with the danger of all the cave-ins created by our sewer system.

What we would like to know is this: Who is responsible for all the vines and weeds on some of the most traveled streets in Bay St. Louis, such as Bookter, Watts, Keller, State and Dunbar?

Enclosed are several photos taken on Friday, August 25.

Stops signs cannot be seen, oncoming traffic cannot be seen, etc. It is hazardous to travel these streets and intersections.

Washington report

By Trent Lott

When Congress returns to Washington from its August district work period, it won't be to an empty calendar. Numerous important pieces of legislation remain to be voted on before the end of the second session of the 95th Congress.

Two of the most important are the energy bill and tax cuts. Development of a national energy plan has been one of the priorities of this Congress and tax cuts are an essential ingredient in any recipe for economic recovery.

Long-delayed while congressional conferees worked out a compromise over some provisions, the energy bill now appears to be headed back to the floors of the House and Senate. The hold up for months has been the crucial issue of deregulating the price of natural gas.

The House voted to continue federal price controls on natural gas while the Senate took the opposite view and opted to deregulate prices. Since the legislation did not pass either house like it passed the other, a conference committee was formed to work out a compromise.

After months of disagreement over this 24-year-old issue, a conference report has been approved by a majority of the conferees of both houses. The report calls for removing federal controls on newly-discovered natural gas by 1985.

Experts have predicted that deregulation would save the equivalent of up to a million barrels of imported oil a day by producing that much more natural gas.

A second example of pressing legislation is the $16.2 billion in federal tax cuts which has already been approved by the House and is awaiting action by the Senate. Under terms of the House legislation, tax cuts averaging $163 would be granted, capital gains taxes would be reduced and a one-time, tax-free profit of up to $100,000 on the sale of a house would be allowed.

Tax cuts are an ideal way to improve the economy because they allow individuals to retain control over more of their own money. Now if we can find ways to accompany these tax cuts with a reduction in federal spending, the country will be well on the road toward a significant brightening of the overall economic picture.

I hope the Senate makes improvements in the House bill so that Americans will be able to enjoy even more tax relief.

Besides these two important issues, Congress also faces potential action on a variety of other matters. The list is lengthy, but some highlights are the ethics in government act, a prohibition on union organization of the armed services, welfare reform, civil service reform and creation of a department of education.

Whether Congress will act on all these matters remains to be seen, but one thing is for certain: The session isn't over yet.

Labor Day

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

A holiday coming between Independence Day and Thanksgiving when people needed a holiday. In September it would be warm enough to have a parade, and a parade they did have.

Ten thousand workers marched proudly through the streets around Union Square in New York City. The band players wore red, white and blue uniforms. They carried brass drums, gold and silver trumpets and saxophones.

All this occurred September 5, 1882 - the first Labor Day; and was the brain child of Peter J. McGuire.

McGuire was born in New York City in 1852. When he was eleven years old he worked in a furniture factory. Later he became a carpenter and president of a big union of Carpenters - unified Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners of America.

Daniel Webster wrote: "Labor is one of the great elements of Society - the great substantial interest on which we all stand. Not feudal service nor predial toil nor the irksome drudgery by one race of mankind subjected, on account of their color to another, but labor - intelligent, manly, independent thinking and acting for itself, earning its own wages, accumulating those wages into capital, educating childhood, maintaining worship, claiming the right of the elective franchise and helping to uphold the great fabric of the State - that is American Labor; and all my sympathies are with it, and my voice till I am dumb, will be for it."

News

A special committee is working in the Mississippi House of Representatives to determine whether tax relief can be granted in 1979 and, if such relief is to be granted, the form it should take. Some interesting facts and figures from the office of the State Treasurer indicate the need and the timeliness for such action.

State Treasurer Ed Pittman offered information in two areas of state government - the growth of government and the present balance in the state till.

Here are his facts about the growth of government:

1972	$470.4 million
1973	$564.8 million
1974	$626.2 million
1975	$665.9 million
1976	$679.9 million
1977	$772.9 million
1978	$884.1 million

The record is clear: government in Mississippi has almost doubled in six years.

Address unknown

Postmaster Frank F. Taconi
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

August 26, 1978, when I took my mail from my rural box I found the notice FFT:UM informing me my rural carrier would be no. 3 and that I would have a new address - Route 3, Box 526, a change from Route 4, Box 125.

You hope this will be a small inconvenience and I will get the service I deserve. I am wondering just what you have in mind for the "service I deserve?"

This change will be more than a small inconvenience to me and many of the postal patrons I have had a chance to speak with.

Many are just now getting over the last change a few months ago.

This is going to be more than a small inconvenience to the people who get their retirement, Social Security, welfare, Veterans and other checks by mail.

Most of these people can not afford the extra expense of notifying the different correspondents that this address change will necessitate.

Now, Postmaster Taconi, why has this been done so quietly without any concern about the postal patron being advised there was a need for another change of the rural routes?

My husband, Oscar T. Brew, called you a few weeks ago to ask about this change and he was informed it wasn't going to happen any time soon, why was our mail carrier called on the "carpet" for starting rumors of this change?

I came to you at the Bay St. Louis Post Office several times about 10 years now for some kind of address in this area.

The Post Office had no boxes for rent. I could not get mail to my house in Shoreline Park's First Street because the service was not to my house yet even though there was service to others in the area.

I had to go to the Kiln, Post Office to rent a box so I could have an address here in the Area.

I still have this box and I am about to just have my mail go there again.

I have found the Bay St. Louis Post Office unconcerned for us needing service from this office.

I do get much mail, newspaper, magazines, of course bills - phone and electric - and I could not begin to inform all those of a new address after just trying to get all my mail changed from New Orleans, Louisiana.

I could go on and on why this address change would be more than a small inconvenience.

I do not intend to even start to change my address again until I have a full investigation of the Bay St. Louis Post Office and am told the reasons I have to change my address.

How do I know in 6 months another address change will not be needed?

Right now I consider myself without an address.

I have had excellent mail service from our present carrier.

I can see the biggest mess in our mail service with this address change - lost mail is very expensive, so where is the saving of money?

"Hop this small inconvenience will give you the service you deserve" - again, How?

Sincerely,

Mrs. Louisa M. Brew

HOME SAFETY TIPS

4-H'ers enrolled in the safety project should first begin at home to make sure safety is practiced.

Remove obstacles from walks or walkways. This may require repairing walks, steps or ramps. Look for places where handrails are needed.

Provide ladders so no one will be tempted to climb on tables, benches or chairs. Make sure the ladder is in good repair.

Always make sure playthings, hobby things or work equipment are picked up when not in use, particularly on steps.

Use nonslip wax on floors, and be sure that scatter rugs won't slip.

Stairs, entrances and exits, halls and walks should be well-lighted so everyone can see where they are going.

Bathrooms are a very dangerous place to fall. Bathtubs and showers should have on-skid strips in them.

Sliding glass doors should be made of non-breakable glass for safety. They should also have some type of decal or design, so they can be seen.

Homes, particularly farm homes, contain many hazardous materials. All medicines should be stored in a place designated only for medicines. Containers should have safety caps, particularly if there are small children in the home.

Always leave the label on all chemicals and medicines.

Leave them in the original containers if possible; replace worn labels. Never store hazardous materials in soft drink bottles. Never leave cleaning materials; fuels, insecticides or pesticides where children can reach them.

Extension Home Economist Notes By Norine Barnes Hancock County

COUNTRY MARKET COLORS

There are always fresh colors in fashion, but do you ever wonder what to call them?

This fall's Country market colors refer to the deep, muted shades - inspired by produce you would see at a roadside vegetable stand.

Kale ... eggplant ... pumpkin ... cauliflower ... beet ... all reflect those earthy naturals.

GOOD NUTRITION?

The "hamburger-cola" way of life is on the increase. An average of one in four meals is eaten away from home, and a large share of these are eaten in fast-food establishments.

In addition to being fast and close to home, many consumers feel this eating option provides an easy way to feed their family for less. A study by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), however, finds fast food meals often cost twice as much as the same meal prepared at home.

Most fast food meals contain adequate protein, however, protein is not the problem - the problem is what is absent from a hamburger, french fries and cola combination.

A USDA study criticized most fast food meals for being low in vitamin A, and possibly calcium; and high in fat and total calories. Calcium and vitamin A could be supplied by milk or milkshake. Vitamin C would be low without french fries.

Consumer Reports magazine states that typical meals at several fast food chains provide almost half the daily calorie needs of a typical adult male. If you can eat one of three daily meals at such a restaurant, you would probably gain weight.

SHOULDER PADS

This fall fashion accents the shoulders. Big shoulders (football style in some designs) are returning. For the past several years shoulder pads have been used only in outerwear. Soon light shoulder pads will be seen in dresses, blouses and jacket.

Patterns will offer duplicate and modified couturier shoulder designs on garments this fall and next spring. Overall, the modified look is expected to be more popular than the exaggerated shoulders.

Shoulder pads are marketed in retail stores by several home sewing companies, or you can fashion your own from lambswool or polyester fleece.

WEEKLY BROILERS

BROILER-TYPE

Hatcheries in the State set 6,041,000 eggs for broiler chicks during the week ending August 26, 1978, three percent above the previous week and two percent above the 5,943,000 set the corresponding week a year ago.

There were 5,422,000 broiler chicks placed on Mississippi farms during the week ending August 26, 1978, six percent above the previous week and five percent above the 5,015,000 placed the corresponding week a year ago.

Cumulative placements for 1978 are 100,912,900 broiler chicks - six percent above a year earlier.

TRESPASSING AND CITIZENS' ARRESTS

In new procedural interpretations announced by Mississippi Game and Fish Commissioner Director Joe Stone, landowners in this state will not be required to take as much of the law enforcement responsibility into their own hands in respect to the new Trespass Law as was described in this column last week.

In an interview with Stone last week this writer was told that the new Trespass Law does not revise past priorities of the Commission which deal with enforcement of the game laws of the state. Under the new act, however, he said that local conservation officers, or game wardens, will check for violations on lands that are known to be posted or in response to complaints by landowners.

Stone related that persons who hunt, fish, or trespass on private property without written permission may be issued citations by local conservation officers without the landowners being present or issuing the complaint.

The agency administrator asked landowners with special trespass problems to contact their local conservation officers, or if they do not know them, call or write the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission in Jackson so that conservation officers may get in touch with them concerning special problems.

Mississippi's new Trespass Law went into effect July 1, 1978, requiring written permission from the landowner for entry for any reason onto land that has been legally posted.

Possible trespassing violations include hunting, trapping, fishing, hiking, camping, horseback riding, motorcycle riding, recreation vehicle entry, running of dogs, or similar activities.

Entering onto posted lands without written permission on the person shall be considered prima facie evidence, according to the law, and sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables and conservation officers shall enforce the trespass law. A fine of up to $250 for each offense is provided.

The Attorney General's office advised this writer that although the Trespass Law clearly defines which law enforcement agencies shall enforce the law, it does not spell out how they are to do their respective jobs through the several agencies involved. This means of course that each law enforcement agency will establish its own procedural policies as done by the Game and Fish Commission last week.

Hinds County Sheriff J.D. McAdory reported to this column that he and his deputies are limited in the enforcement of a misdemeanor such as trespassing and require that a private property owner must sign an affidavit with the local justice court before a county deputy may enter private property for the purpose of issuing a citation or making an arrest.

This brings up the matter of first contact with the trespasser and a word of caution from the Attorney General's office concerning citizen's arrest. This agency reported that while citizens' arrest are one means of apprehending and bringing in an offender when caught in the act of a law violation, so that he may not get away and be charged with the offense, it becomes a risky route for private citizens to take.

Law enforcement officers are trained and prepared for calculated risk taking, the Attorney General's counsel went, while local citizens leave themselves open to personal and legal injury if anything goes wrong.

As an example, in a confrontation with a violator, a citizen landowner may go too far and violate the rights of the offender and end up in court facing more serious charges than the one he sought to bring on the trespasser.

The third law enforcement group sharing in the enforcement responsibility of the trespass are the constables.

These are locally elected and based officials closely tied with community law enforcement and should be consulted with in regard to this new law.

Greg Ladner shines

Hawks edge Eagles

By ELLIS CUEVAS
And LESLIE WILLIAMS
The Hancock North Central Hawks came from behind twice Friday to edge Our Lady of Victories Eagles 14-12.

The Hawks had three touchdowns called back in the second half for infractions.

Greg Ladner, workhorse for the Hawks, rolled up 184 yards plus, more than 100 of which were erased by teammate infractions.

"I feel sorry for Greg Ladner, he broke it clean twice for long touchdowns and they were called back, that is what makes a coach grow old fast," commented Head Coach Irvin Favre after the game.

Favre said, "Our defense played a good game, but we had people on offense make mistakes they shouldn't have made and they were not made by new players—they were made by experienced players who should know better."

"OLV has the best team they have had in five years, and I mentioned that fact in pre-game, they were ready for us," added coach Favre.

OLV was the first to score in the first quarter when a defensive charge on a Hawk punt enabled Joe Blackwell to block a Vincent Adams punt and recover on Hancock's 28 yard line. Davey Davis scored on a nine yard run four plays later. The point after by OLV was no good giving the Eagles a 6-0 edge over the Hawks with 3:40 left in the first quarter.

In early second quarter action, Greg Ladner set up the Hawks' first score on a 44-yard run to OLV's 34. Four plays later on a pitch-out from Adams, Ladner scored on a nine yard run. The point after by Hawk kicker Jesse Drainie was good giving them a 7-6 edge with 10:18 left in the first half.

The Eagles took back the lead when an Adams pass was intercepted by Nely Davis on OLV's 38. Five plays later Dennis Schaefer hit Herman Wells with a screen pass good for a 28 yard score. The FA was missed and the Eagles led 12-7 with 4:21 remaining in the second quarter.

After the Eagle kick-off, the Hawks took over on their own 22 and moved 78 yards in 10 plays for their final official score. Quarterback Adams hit split end David Clark with a 13 yard score with only 34 seconds left in the half. Drainie's kick was good for the extra point giving the Hawks a 14-12 halftime lead.

In the second half the Hawk defense tightened up and kept the Eagles from hitting touchdown territory with some fine defensive play.

The Hawks offense moved the ball in the second half, but to no avail, as three apparent TD's were called back for infractions.

Adams hit Clark for an apparent score in the third quarter and the eight yard score was called back.

In the fourth quarter, Adams set up two scores when he intercepted Eagle passes, but each was called back.

Greg Ladner rambled for 60 yards to paydirt after the first interception and Ladner went for 57 yards and was called back, holding seemed to be the Hawk infraction each time.

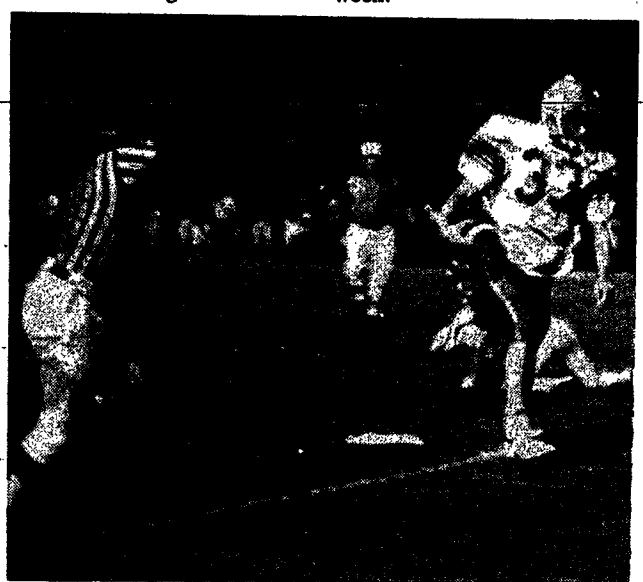

Coach Favre was very disappointed with the offensive goofs, "I am very disappointed, we played so poorly, our offensive play kept OLV in the game," he said.

The Hawks had 14 first downs to the Eagles 8 and led in total yardage 387-167.

Coach Favre, though disappointed with some of his offensive regulars, had high praises for his hard running half back, Greg Ladner, especially when his 184 total yards could have been almost 300 without holding penalties calling back two of his long apparent TD's.

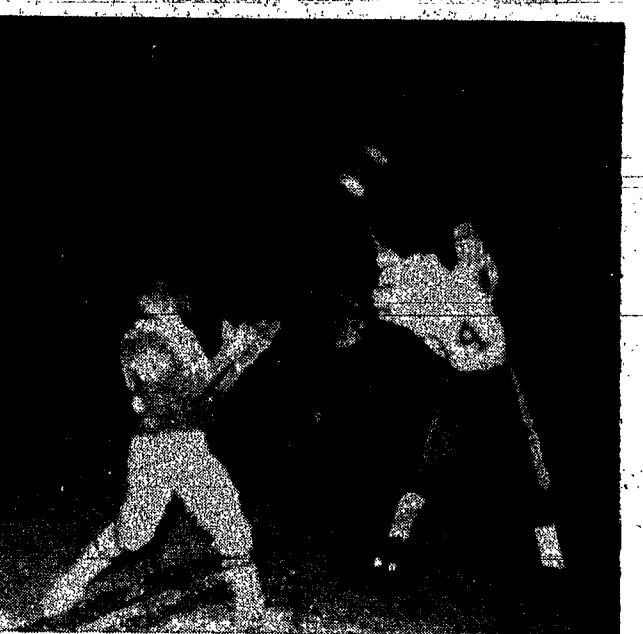

The Hawks, now 2-0, journey to Pearl River, La., next week.

LADNER MAKES LONG GAINER - Gregg Ladner, No. 33, moves around end for a long gainer in Hawks 14-12 victory over Our Lady of Victories Friday. Bay Junior High winners in rout

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Bay Junior High's new head coach Cleveland Williams unleashed a potent offensive weapon against the Notre Dame Rebels in Biloxi Thursday scoring a 58-0 victory.

Coach Williams, assisted by Gary Blalze, had high praises for his offensive linemen. "The team played a good game, the offensive line was blowing them out."

"Among the standouts were Jimmy Sones, Mark Fousanon, Richard Hardie, Charles Stewart, Darin Davenport, Ronald Carter and tight end Curtis Thomas," Coach Williams added.

Williams said he played all 42 members of his squad. Cornerback Dennis Rhodes intercepted four Rebel passes to lead in the seven Tiger interceptions.

Tiger scoring started with running back Dan Fayard going in for nine yards.

Rhodes ran a 45 yard interception in for a score. Then fullback Donald Carver ran 30 yards.

Other scoring was by Donald Aker on a nine yard run, Van Fayard on a interception for about a 30 yard score, and Frankie Reed rambled for a eight yard score.

Running plays on the extra points added to the score. Donald Carver made three on runs for six points with Van Fayard and Keith Johnson each added two points on runs, after touchdowns.

The Tigers recovered five Rebel fumbles and only lost one fumble.

Coach Williams still feels his team needs some improvements by saying, "We still have some weaknesses to work on, and I am happy with our first game outing."

Next week Bay Junior High will meet East Central in Tiger stadium with at 7 p.m.

Tigers home safe in 2-0 cliff-hanger

By RANDY AND SHERRY PONDER

A much improved Bay High football team gained a 2-0 victory over Notre Dame Rebels with less than eight minutes left in the final quarter.

Rebel quarterback Gregg Breal dropped the ball in the end zone on a punt attempt and a host of Tigers smothered him for a safety.

After the game, Coach Billy Rhodes commented, "I am extremely pleased with the way our defense played. I believe the offense will get better, we were hampered all night by bad field position."

The game was a defensive struggle throughout, with the defense really tightening up when the other team threatened.

The tigers kicked-off to the Rebels to start the contest. After a series of punts, Notre Dame took over the ball on the Tiger 42 yard line. They moved the ball after several plays to the Tigers 14 for a first down.

The first quarter ended and the Tiger defense began to shine taking over on their own eight after four tries by the Rebels.

pitchout from his quarterback and was dropped for another five yard loss by Tim Delcuzo forcing the Rebels to punt.

As the quarter ended the Tigers had possession of the ball.

In the second half of the contest, the defense continued to contain each team, with neither putting a sustained drive together.

Midway in the fourth quarter with the Rebels on their own one yard line after some fine Tiger defense, the Tigers covered the punter in the end zone for the only score of the game.

After the safety, on the free kick the Tigers got the ball on their 47 yard line. After two losses, Ronald Collins carried for a 12 yard gain. The Tigers took a time out with fourth and one foot. Lafontaine, on a keeper gained 15 yards for a first down, at the Rebel 33.

The Rebel defense tightened up and forced the Tigers to punt into the end zone.

Notre Dame moved quickly down the field to the Tiger 20 and after three passes, in completions faked a field goal with a pass and was stopped for no gain.

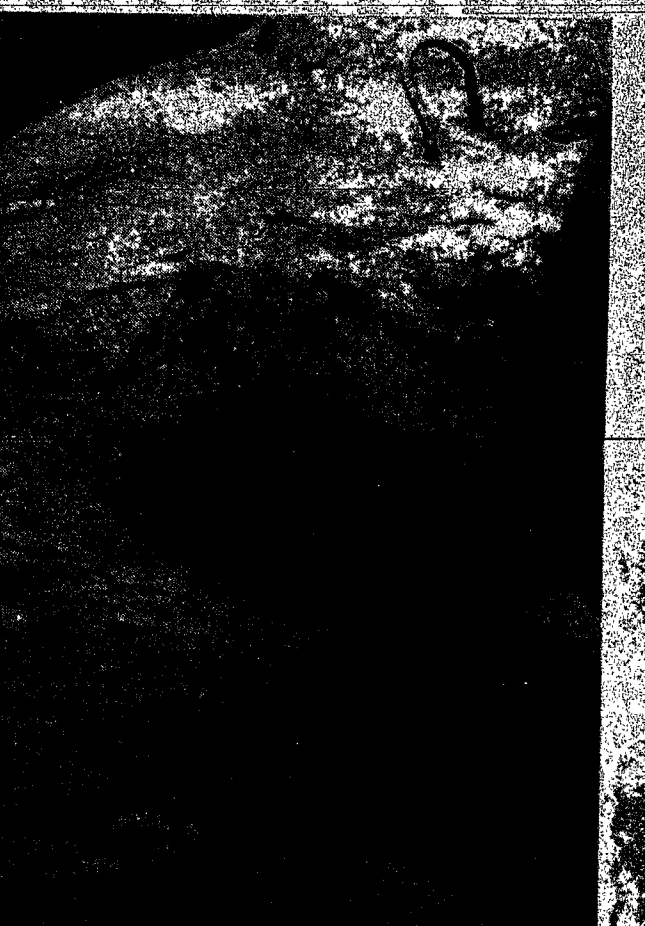

The Tigers took over on downs and on the second play fumbled on their own 3. After four incomplete passes, the Tigers took over and held onto the ball until the game was over.

Coach Rhodes, elated over the victory, added, "We have a small team, they play with blood and guts, and that's what it takes to win."

The Tigers travel to East Central next Friday in Pascagoula River Conference play. The Tigers are now 1-0 third and 16, Tim Holt took a

TOUGH TIGER DEFENSE - Tommy Mann, No. 11, Notre Dame finds it tough to move the ball as he is tackled by Kevin Favre, No. 63, with help coming from Joe Calvanis, No. 43, Leroy Peterson, No. 87, and other Tigers. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

A MYSTERY TO OFFICIALS - During excavations Wednesday at the intersection of Nocatee Street and De Montigny Avenue, foreman for Sanitary Land Fill Contractors found this 24-inch drainage pipe with no place to go because about 20 feet of the pipe was missing. Mayor Larry Bonacci just shook his head when confronted with the missing pipe, realizing the manhole kept caving in because of water from the drain pipe flowing into the area. Workers say the sewer line is broken at all four entries into the manhole. There was also a leak in the water line, covered by a six inch layer of concrete which kept the water from coming to surface. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

SLOAN'S FIRST

The odds favor Ole Miss coach Steve Sloan in his opening night appearance against Memphis State. Of the Rebels' 28 previous coaches, 19 posted victories in their first Ole Miss starts, there were eight losses and two ties. Only once since 1922, or through the last eight coaches, has an Ole Miss mentor failed to win a career opener. Of course, Sloan has his own record to go on of victories in his first head coaching start at both Vanderbilt and Texas Tech. Overall, Sloan is undefeated in his season openers, winning all five as a major college head coach (two at Vanderbilt, three at Tech.)

OLE MISS RECORD

Against its five 1976 non-conference foes, Ole Miss has posted a combined record of 81-34-1. The Rebels are 26-4-1 vs. Memphis State, 1-1-0 vs. Missouri, 10-2-0 vs. Southern Mississippi, 25-24-0 vs. Tulane and 3-3-0 vs. South Carolina.

N. O. Symphony to bring Starship Encounters to Coast Coliseum

The New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra in conjunction with the sound and light company, SHOWCO, hits the road in a pre-season tour beginning in Baton Rouge on Sunday, September 10, and winding up at the Coast Coliseum in Biloxi Saturday, Sept. 16, at 7:30 p.m.

The brilliance of a laser light spectacular combined with rear screen projection, quad surround sound and dazzling special effects by the company will be accompanied by the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony called one of the top ten in the country.

The beauty and power of the music from "Star Wars," "2001: A Space Odyssey,"

"Star Trek," "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" and "The Planets" Suite, combined with a narrative of the mysteries of space, has led reviewers from such cities as Dallas and Detroit to call it everything from a "hum-dinger" to "multi-media tour de force."

A concert production by Wings, Jackson Browne, Led Zeppelin, the Who, Linda Ronstadt and many others have utilized the SHOWCO sound system.

A representative of the company said Starship Encounters is the second biggest "grosser" in the country, surpassed only by Mick Jagger and the Rolling Stones. Conducted by Gary Sheldon, assistant conductor of the New Orleans Orchestra, the performance was a New Orleans first when it played in the Superdome.

The reaction of the crowds spurred the Symphony's decision to take the show on the road.

Tickets in each of the cities are currently available at the respective auditoriums by mail order until August 28 when they will go on sale at the auditoriums and various ticket outlets in each area.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Tracie Urie of Mercury Air Conditioning Co., Inc. or Helen Aycock of Coast Materials Co., both located in Gulfport.

Senior Happenings

My personal thanks to the many Seniors who said they missed the Column in last week's edition of the Echo. Many feared the column was discontinued, but I reassured them, it was because I took a week's vacation. Just spent a week relaxing around the old homestead. It really felt good, but am glad to be back.

RECREATION

The Seniors from Hancock County extend Birthday Greetings to: Raymond Williams, Blanche Collins, Lillian Asher, and Vivian Singleton.

It was the August Party held at the Center in Bay St. Louis Monday, August 28th, at 1:30 p.m. Even though it is vacation time and a lot of folks were out of town, and others under the weather, we still had a very nice turn-out.

Vivian Singleton was the winner of the special birthday prize donated by Buddy Morrow of Danny's Fried Chicken Restaurant on US-90, Bay St. Louis. Buddy deserves a big bunch of orchids from all the Seniors. For over a year now he has donated two of those delicious dinners every month for our birthday winner.

Our thanks also to: The Waveland Resort Inn. Captain's Table for a luncheon for two as our door prize, won by Allie Coyne. My wife and I dined at the Captain's Table one night on vacation, and believe me, we had some delicious food.

Entertainment this month was furnished by our good friend Louis Burghard, a very versatile pianist, and your truly singing. When you're Whoopee, "Around the World," and "Hello Dolly," followed by a community sing-along with everyone joining in on a lot of the old favorites. My compliments to all the many fine voices in our Center.

Those delicious cakes baked by Mrs. A. G. Payne that we enjoy each month are very generously donated to the Birthday Party by a new contributor. The Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association. They very fine local organization is always a friend to the Community, and especially the Senior Citizens of Hancock County. If any of you need any advice on a financial problem, just drop in on these most hospitable folks.

Once again we cannot say enough about the RSVP Volunteers, who always are so generous with their time in helping to make all of our events run so smoothly.

Our Telephone Committee Members are: Cecile Gailvan, Anna Marsh, Maggie

Ethel Domain, Anna Garcia and Thelma White. Entertainment for the September Birthday Party will be Nicky Gordan, an outstanding Organist.

Gospel singing every Wednesday 2 to 3 p.m., there are openings in this activity. All Seniors who would like to enroll in any of the above mentioned activities with openings, please contact Jim Hoda at 467-4292.

Seniors, the success of all our programs can only be measured by your participation. This is Your Center. It is one of the most active Senior Citizens Center in the State, but it can only remain so by your continued enthusiasm and attendance. So you as an individual are the most important asset, and there is a need for you in particular. This is the only way in which we can show our appreciation to the Department of Public Welfare, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, The Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and the United Way for helping to make our dreams a reality.

DAY CARE CENTER
In our last column we explained how the Day Care Center Department of the Senior Citizens Program was founded. This week we would like to start by telling you some of the activities that are taking place and the people involved.

We would like to introduce the personal craft instructor for the Day Care participants, whose program classes are separate from the other classes mentioned in the Column.

Marie Fazande, a native of New Orleans, was wooed by our beautiful Mississippi Gulf Coast, and purchased a home in Waveland 25 years ago, and became a part-time resident until 1971, when she made it her permanent home.

In 1973 she was employed as a part time Senior Aide, after many many volunteer hours. Her pleasing personality, congeniality, and adept methods of instructing the Seniors resulted in her joining the Staff as a full time employee of Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District.

Marie now teaches the Day Carers ceramics, flower making, various types of wall plaques, pillow and toy making, tile craft, sewing, crochet, and many many other projects designed not only to take up the time of the members, but to actually help rehabilitate hands made idle with years of arthritic pains, and restoring a pride in each individual as they can give the things they have made to loved ones.

Marie, along with the assistance of Deirdre Dear, is now able to pour all the greenware used by the class. This in itself is quite an art.

So you can see how dedication and love in helping others is a beautiful trait in all the staff members of the Senior Citizens Programs. Not only do they work very hard at the job, but many hours of volunteer work is performed. Come in and meet Marie Fazande at the Center, I'm sure you will then agree she is one of the greatest.

KILN

The Senior Citizens Club will hold its Game session and Birthday Party at the V.F.W. Hall on Thursday, Sept. 7th, at 1:30 p.m. Seniors who not form a car-pool and invite a friend or neighbor who is a Senior to this event, and perhaps establish a desire in them to become one of us.

WAVELAND

The coffee and biscuits sessions at the Waveland Civic Center on Coleman Avenue, held every Tuesday from 9 to 11 a.m. has been increasing in attendance. Blood pressure checks are taken by competent volunteers.

An open Invitation is extended to all Seniors from Hancock County to participate in this event every week. Mrs. Nuber, who is an active RSVP member, serves the coffee and hot biscuits. I can attest to the fact that her radiant smile will make you welcome and feel at home.

ILLNESS

We are always sorry to hear of any of our members who become ill, but I'm sure a cheery card will always help ease the day and maybe provide even a little less pain to those bedridden to know that we really do care.

Please remember in your prayers the following members: Thelma Collier, Carrie Williams, Florence Goodsell, and Agnes Ladner, who are all in the hospital.

Jose Urbina has been very ill and was hospitalized, but we are happy to report is home again. We wish all of you a speedy recovery, and hurry back to us, cause ya'll are sure missed.
